

Privacy Policy

Your information is safe with us! We never give third-parties access to your information, and we use the tightest safeguards to protect your sensitive information.

This Privacy Policy describes the guidelines Sustainability (creators of VimSuite) uses to protect the information we collect about you during your visit to our website.

What we do with this information

Sustainability will never disclose, share or sell your information to any outside company for any purpose.

The information that we collect during a purchase is used ONLY to fulfil your order, track the status of your order, register software, provide registration keys and provide the best customer service possible.

At various times, Sustainability requests personal information which may include your name, address, telephone number, email address, credit card information and personal interests. In addition, Sustainability periodically sponsors contests and other promotions that may require additional information in order for you to participate.

Sustainability may disclose your information under special circumstances, such as when we believe it is required by law.

Sustainability may also use customer information, on an aggregate basis, to better understand our users and to improve our services. Aggregate statistics may also be disclosed to potential advertisers and/or business partners. For example, we might use the aggregate statistic "15% of Sustainability's users are from Perth", but we would not divulge that "Ms. Jo Bloggs, age 25, is from Perth", unless we had prior permission.

The use of "cookies"

Sustainability does use cookies. Cookies are small information files stored by your browser on your hard drive that allow us to provide advanced features such as personalisation and shopping carts. The cookies we use do not contain any credit card or financial information. If you wish, you can change your browser settings to disable cookies, but please note that cookies must be enabled on your browser in order to make a purchase at our website. Personal information cookies, such as address and contact details, are deleted at the end of the purchase process.

Consent

By visiting and purchasing products through Sustainability's or VimSuite's website, you consent to the collection of the information described above by Sustainability. If we ever modify our privacy policy, we will post any changes on this page so you can always be up-to-date on the information we collect and how we use it.
